1 3. On June 14, 2006, Juan A. Tajalle was excluded from the Library for fourteen
2 days following an incident in which he exhibited threatening, harassing and disruptive behavior,
3 and failure to comply with staff requests. The order was issued by David Adams, a Library
4 Security Officer. A copy of the order is attached as Exhibit 1. Library security officers have the 5 authority to issue exclusion orders of up to fourteen days. The notice of the exclusion given to
6 Mr. Tajalle contained the advice that the subject may request an administrative review of the 7 order by writing or emailing the Library at the addresses stated on the notice. Mr. Tajalle made

14 5. On June 23, 2004, I wrote to Mr. Tajalle to inform him that he was excluded from

THE SEATTLE PUBLIC LIBRARY POLICY

SUBJECT: RULES OF CONDUCT

Welcome to The Seattle Public Library. The Library is supported by the taxes of the people of Seattle who expect each of our facilities to be clean, comfortable, and safe places for selecting materials, reading, researching, studying, writing, and attending programs and meetings. To this end, the Library is responsible for establishing rules of conduct to protect the rights and safety of Library patrons, volunteers, and staff, and for preserving and protecting the Library's materials, equipment, facilities, and grounds. In addition, the Library has a strong commitment to intellectual freedom and to freedom of access to information.

Enforcement of these rules will be conducted in a fair and reasonable manner. Library staff and/or Seattle Police Officers will intervene to stop prohibited activities and behaviors. Failure to comply with the Library's established rules, regulations, and policies could result in removal from the premises and exclusion from the Library for a period of one day to one year, or in arrest or prosecution. Violations could also result in the restriction and/or termination of Library privileges, including the use of Library computers and other equipment (RCW 27.12.290).

Individual patrons have the right to request an administrative review of an exclusion order that is for a period greater than seven days (The Seattle Public Library Policy #3j, Rules of Conduct Enforcement).

Introduction

Every member of the public has the right to use the facilities and resources of The Seattle Public Library. Along with that right is a responsibility to comply with the Library's established rules, regulations, and policies. Engaging in conduct that violates the Library's Rules of Conduct may result in an individual being excluded from the Library (Rules of Conduct policy #3k). Exclusion time periods range from a partial day to one year. Fair, reasonable, and consistent enforcement of The Seattle Public Library Rules of Conduct is the job of every The Seattle Public Library employee.

Authorized Library employees are charged with administering the exclusion process in response to violations of the Rules of Conduct. It is recognized that, while guidelines serve to lead a Library employee through the exclusion process, varying circumstances will necessitate exercising sound independent judgment regarding enforcement of the rules. All employees should avoid directly engaging in enforcement activities that could reasonably jeopardize the safety of themselves or others.

Administrative Review Process (Rules of Conduct Enforcement Policy #3i)

Individuals who have been excluded from the Library for longer than 7 days and believe that they have been wrongly excluded have a due process right to timely request administrative reviews of the exclusion order. The exclusion order remains in effect pending the administrative reviews.

The administrative review is a written process with time limits. Individuals unable to participate in a written process may request reasonable accommodation.

1. On or before the 14th calendar day after the date on the Notice of Exclusion Order, the individual may send a request for an administrative review of the exclusion order by writing to Administrative Review, 1000 Fourth Avenue, Seattle, WA 98104, or emailing administrative.review@spl.org. Individuals shall include in the request any written documentation they seek to have considered in the review process.

2. The City Librarian, or the acting City Librarian, shall review the exclusion order and send a written decision to the excluded individual on or before the 21st calendar day after the Library receives the request for the administrative review.
3. On or before the 14th calendar day after the date on the City Librarian's written decision, the individual may send a request for a Library Board review of the City Librarian's decision by writing to Administrative Review, 1000 Fourth Avenue, Seattle, WA 98104, or emailing administrative.review@spl.org.
4. The President of the Library Board, or another Board member acting as the President's designee, shall review the exclusion order, considering only the written record and the patron's written administrative review request, and shall send a written final decision to the excluded individual on or before the 21st calendar day after the Library Board received the request for an administrative review.

Exclusions

Q: Who is authorized to exclude an individual?

A: The City Librarian and the Director of Administrative Services (or another Library representative acting as a designee during the absence of the City Librarian or the Director of Administrative Services) are authorized to order exclusions for periods of time ranging from a partial day to 365 days. The Security Manager is authorized to order exclusions for a period of time up to 90 days. Security Officers, Central Library Managers, and Branch Library Managers are authorized to order exclusions for a period of time up to 14 days.

In the absence of the above-listed individuals, the highest-ranking staff member on duty is authorized to order an exclusion for a period of time up to 7 days. Upon the recommendation of the staff member ordering an exclusion, the Director of Administrative Services (or another Library representative acting as the Director's designee during the Director's absence) is authorized to extend the original exclusion time period for additional days not to exceed a total exclusion period of 365 days.

Staff members who are authorized to order exclusions will be provided guidelines, which will aid in determining the appropriate length of exclusion period.

The Director of Administrative Services (or another Library representative acting as the Director's designee during the Director's absence) will review all exclusion orders for exclusion periods in excess of 7 days. Exclusion time periods could be reduced following the review and a letter sent to the last known address of the excluded individual to notify him or her of the reduction.

Q: When does an individual's conduct warrant an exclusion order?

A: When the subject...

1. engages in any illegal activity in violation of federal, state, or local law, ordinance or regulation.
2. fights or threatens to fight.
3. engages in threatening or harassing behavior towards another, including sex acts and indecent exposure.

4. is under the influence of alcohol/illegal drugs, or selling, using, or possessing alcohol/illegal drugs.
5. trespasses in nonpublic areas or is in the Library without permission of an authorized Library employee before or after Library operating hours.
6. steals, or intentionally damages or destroys Library materials, equipment, or property.
7. is not a law enforcement officer or Seattle Public Library Security Officer and is carrying a firearm or dangerous weapon.
8. has violated a Library Rule of Conduct, has been previously warned about a similar rule violation, and a staff member or Security Officer has documented the warning in a log or incident report form.

Q: When should staff members and Security Officers call 9-911?

A: Whenever immediate Police assistance is needed because

1. a subject's behavior makes it unsafe for either the Security Officer and/or the staff member to attempt to exclude the subject.
2. an excluded individual has returned to the Library during the exclusion period and refuses to leave when asked by a staff member or Security Officer to do so. In cases where the excluded individual is hostile or potentially violent, staff and Security Officers should avoid approaching the excluded individual and should call 9-911 for assistance. If the excluded individual trespasses by returning to the Library a second time during the exclusion period, staff should immediately call 9-911 for assistance (possible Police arrest of the subject).
3. a subject displays a weapon or engages in unlawful activity, including theft and destruction of property.
4. a subject assaults or threatens another person in or on Library property.
5. a subject refuses to stop violating the Rules of Conduct and refuses to leave the Library when ordered to do so by a Security Officer or authorized staff member.
6. of other emergencies unrelated to Rules of Conduct enforcement, such as medical emergencies and bomb threats.

Q: How is an exclusion order issued and carried out?

A: All exclusion activity must be conducted with safety in mind. 9-911 should be called for any situations requiring immediate exclusion actions that would risk the safety of staff members (including Security Officers).

When safety concerns exist and an immediate exclusion of an individual is not necessary, staff may request the issuance of an exclusion order by faxing the request and supporting documentation to the Administrative Services Director at (206) 386-4108. The Director of Administrative Services (or another Library representative acting as the Director's designee) will make a decision regarding the requested exclusion order and, if issued, will mail the Notice of Exclusion Order to the subject's last known address.

When on site, Library Security Officers will (1) ask the subject to provide valid photo identification after informing the subject that he or she has violated the Library's Rules of Conduct, and (2) order the exclusion by providing a Notice of Exclusion Order and a copy of the Rules of Conduct while another Officer or staff member stands by. If a subject does not provide photo identification, the Security Officer will request verbal identification, attempt to identify the patron using other means, and provide an accurate and detailed physical description on the Notice of Exclusion Order.

- Security Officers will not conduct warrant checks during the course of ordering exclusions.
- When engaging in exclusion activity, trained Security Officers may utilize safe and minimal guiding and escorting techniques when necessary.
- While carrying out exclusion orders, trained Security Officers will use only the minimum amount of force reasonably necessary to protect themselves or another from assault or injury and to detain a subject for the Police when there is probable cause that the subject has committed a felony crime.
- If safe to do so while carrying out exclusion orders, a subject will be photographed whenever: (1) Adult subject (believed to be 18 years old or older) who is issued an exclusion order reasonably expected to be approved for over 14 days; OR (2) Any adult subject who refuses to produce government issued identification when requested; OR (3) Any adult being detained for police action; OR (4) Subjects under 18 years of age who are observed committing a crime and being detained for police action. Only Security Officers are authorized to photograph a subject, unless a Library manager is authorized by the Director of Administrative Services. The photograph of a subject will be stored in his/her record in the file named "All Security Incidents.mdb" located in the subfolder named "All Incidents Database" in the main folder named "Security & Safety Dept" in the V: drive; the path is V:\Security & Safety Dept\All Incidents Database\All Security Incidents.mdb. Staff are to use this file only in the non-public areas to protect confidentiality.
- All use of force will be reported on a Use of Force Report form and reviewed by the Administrative Services Director or designee within 48 hours.

Q: How is an exclusion order issued and carried out if a Security Officer is not available?

A: Staff members should approach each situation guided by training, judgment, and instincts. Safety should always come first. If a Security Officer is not available and it is safe to do so, an authorized staff member ('backed up' by another staff member) should utilize the CPI (Street Smart) supportive stance, maintain a safe distance, identify the subject using the safest and best means, inform the subject that he or she has violated the Library's Rules of Conduct, and instruct the subject to leave the property and not return to any Seattle Public Library until a specific date (ranging anywhere from the next day to 7 or 14 days). If safe to do so, an attempt should be made to provide the subject with a Notice of Exclusion Order and a copy of the Rules of Conduct. Whether or not the subject is provided with a Notice of Exclusion Order, the Notice should be completed for all exclusions and faxed along with other related documentation to the Administrative Services Director at (206) 386-4108 as soon as possible but no later than the end of the next day. Following a review of the exclusion, the Administrative Services Director will notify all Seattle Public Libraries of the exclusion.

Q: What steps should be taken if an individual violates an exclusion order?

A: If an individual who has been excluded from the Library returns to the Library during the exclusion period, the individual is trespassing and must leave the Library. The situation should be carefully assessed to determine a safe and effective approach for ensuring the departure of the excluded individual. This assessment is best made in consultation with the Security Manager, Security Officers, or the Director of Administrative Services, since these people will often have the most information regarding an individual.

In all cases, every employee in the work area should be made aware of the situation and no one should approach the individual alone. When the excluded individual has a known history of violence or hostile confrontation, 9-911 should be called. Along with all pertinent information, the 911 dispatcher should be informed that an individual was "trespassed" from the Library and that they have returned and are now "trespassing." It is very important that you tell the dispatcher if the trespasser is potentially threatening (due to current or past conduct at the Library).

If the excluded individual does not have a known history of violence and hostile confrontation and is behaving in a calm and lucid manner, either Security Officers or staff may instruct the individual to leave. 9-911 should be called if the individual refuses to leave when instructed to do so.
